AVONGLEN NOTES

Harmony Juniors met November 10th at 2 p.m. at the Avonglen school. 17 members were present. After the business of the meeting, Miss Agnes Savard gave a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Margaret Walker at the organ. Miss Annie Ford being absent, her reading was not given. A short talk on courtesy was given by the advisor, Mrs. Allen. Roll was answered by something suitable for Armistice Day. Singing the Maple Leaf and the junior yell finished the program, and the Misses Margaret Walker and Agnes Savard served a very delicious lunch. This was followed by a treat of real old fashioned taffy candy. While the hostesses put the school in order Miss Lauretta led in a snappy course of P.T. and games. Mrs. Savard was a most welcome guest and took an active part in the P.T. and games, also commenting on the good times the juniors were having at these meetings. The advisor and juniors hope other mothers will find time to join us in some of our meetings, and have a good time with us, for after all the companionship of the young people is what keeps us young. So come out mothers. You will be welcome at any meeting and it gives our juniors more pep to know the mothers are interested in our work and play.

The Avonglen whist club held their first drive on Friday, November 16, at the school with a good attendance.

Bill Whitley had a tonsil operation at Wainwright hospital on Thursday.

Mrs. W. Thompson, of Paschen-dale district, spent the week at the home of Mrs. Marshall.

Ladies' Aid Hold Their Regular Monthly Meeting

The regular meeting of the Irma Ladies' Aid was held in the church, the president, Mrs. Tripp, presiding. The meeting opened with the hymn "What a Friend we have in Jesus". Mrs. M. Knudson led devotionals, reading the 139th Psalm, following with the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll call found eleven members present. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The treasurer reported $87.50 on hand. Proceedings of bazaar and supper totalled very close to seventy dollars.

Moved by Mrs. Smallwood and seconded by Mrs. Fenton, that treasurer's report be accepted. Cd.

Mrs. Tripp extended a very hearty vote of thanks to all the workers and those who helped in any way to make the bazaar the success it was.

Moved by Mrs. Smallwood and Mrs. McLeod, that all bills in connection with the bazaar be paid. Cd.

Moved by Mrs. Geeson and Mrs. Knudson, that bill for flowers be paid. Carried.

The meeting closed with Hymn "He Leadeth Me" and all repeated the watchword.

The December meeting will be held in the church.

A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Smallwood and Mrs. Blakeley, of Strawberry Plains, and a social half-hour was spent.

Collection, $1.45.

Fire Breaks Out Here

About 11.45 a.m. on Thursday, November 15th, Simmons & Sons dray and transfer office on second avenue east was discovered to be on fire. Mr. Lattner, who discovered it, lost no time in raising the alarm. The Masonic lodge was in session at the time and very soon both chemical engines were put to work on the flames. The office was badly burned but the fire was kept out of the adjoining rooms as well as the lodge-room overhead. However the flames shot up the outside walls between the building and burned for some time in the attic before it was finally put out. Great credit is due the local brigade for handling this fire so successfully. It is rather hard to estimate the amount of damage done but we would say approximately $500 but no insurance. There was no one in the building at the time and no one knows just how the fire started.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Mrs. Parke is in receipt of the new annual list of subjects, slogans, rules and prizes for the contests in the Temperance Instruction Department of the Provincial and the Dominion W.C.T.U.

This year's work book as outlined for grades 5 and 6 contains matter under the heads of:—

Language—Write a conversation which might have taken place between a girl who smokes and a boy who does not.

Health—Name three good drinks to serve our friends. Why do you not serve any drinks which contain alcohol?

Spelling—1. Alcohol steals moisture from our cells and shrivels them; 2. Alcohol is a narcotic drug with a poison action; 3. Not all careless persons are drinkers, but all drinkers are careless; 4. Smokers waste their money and injure their health; 5. No man can smoke and drink and remain a champion for any time. (Dr. Pellier, Olympic runner).

Arithmetic—Bob and Bill each earn $1 a week. Bob spends 25c a week on cigarettes and does not save any money. Bill does not smoke and puts 25c a week in the bank. Give four reasons why you think Bill is wiser than Bob.

Writing and drawing—Copy the following and illustrate by drawings or cut-outs:

Apples, ripe apples, we'll pick from the trees.

But cider, no cider, for us if you please.

Grapes, purple grapes, for your eating and mine;

But we'll turn down our glasses where pours the red wine.

Barley, fresh barley, we'll welcome as bread;

But made into beer it is poison instead.

We'll enjoy all the good things God maketh to grow,

But if changed into poisons we'll bravely say "No!"

A reference book to be compiled by Grades 7 and 8 requires some very interesting data, as (1) What athletic coaches say to boys in training; (2) Insurance companies which desire to know whether applicants for policies use alcoholic beverages; (3) Penalties for driving while under the influence of liquor; (4) Alcohol as a poison; (5) Wounds of a drinker take longer to heal than those of a total abstainer; (6) Smoking as a cause of fires; (7) Common drugs of a dangerous nature to be found in patent medicines; (8) Alcohol as a protection against colds; (9) Action of alcohol on white corpuscles; (10) Amount of money spent on alcohol and on tobacco in my province according to the most recent figures available. Book to contain statements or clippings—no more than 30 articles.

The competing essay for students in grades 9 and 10 has for its subject "Illustrate the wonders of touch by telling the story of Helen Keller and show why it is necessary for anyone who wants to make the most of his talents to avoid the use of the narcotic drugs, alcohol and tobacco. Class composed of students in 11th and 12th grades are requested to write an essay illustrating the wonder of hearing by telling the story of Beethoven and showing how the use of narcotic drugs such as alcohol and tobacco impair our God-given powers of body and mind, with its resultant effect upon the nation.

The slogans for posters by public school pupils are: 1. The soberer the safer; 2. Health drinks to serve our friends; 3. Building my house of health; 4. The drinker—the last man hired—the soonest fired—the first one fired; 5. Money waster—alcohol or tobacco; 6. Your own idea in regards to use of alcohol or tobacco.

High school students may choose anything they like to illustrate either tobacco or alcohol.

The Irma local is offering prizes for all grades in both contests. Local prize winners will be eligible in a district contest; district prize winners eligible in provincial, and so on through to the National (dominion).

There is also a contest and prize for teachers.

GEO. P. SMITH LIB-ERAL CANDIDATE

Camrose was the mecca for upwards of 475 delegates to the Camrose Federal Liberal convention held on Friday, November 17th, to nominate a candidate for the Camrose riding in the forthcoming Federal election.

Delegates arrived in the forenoon for the purpose of registration, but this formality was left until two o'clock in the afternoon which caused considerable confusion and delay, so the real business of the convention did not get under way until four o'clock.

Six names were placed before the convention, namely, Alf Lefsrud, of Viking district; James A. Hume, of Ashcroft; C. G. Purvis, of Viking; A. T. Stewart, of Camrose; and D. R. McIvor, of Stettler. Mr. Stewart withdrew his name before the ballot was taken.

The first ballot stood, Lefsrud 6; Hume 15; Purvis 105; McIvor 126; Geo. P. Smith 219.

Lefsrud and Hume were dropped for the second ballot which resulted in Purvis 105; McIvor 142; Geo. P. Smith 231.

On the third ballot 251 ballots were cast for Smith, and 232 for McIvor. Dr. Aunger, of Stettler, chairman, declared Geo. P. Smith nominated.

All candidates for the large crowd of delegates and visitors who crowded the Bailey theatre. Our local candidate, Mr. Purvis, made an especially fine impression in his fearless and courageous speech.

Mr. Geo. P. Smith, the nominee, was a member of the last Liberal ministry in this province, headed by Hon. Charles Stewart, which went down to defeat when the U.F.A. swept the province in 1921. After being in the East for 12 years he returned to Camrose this summer and at once threw his hat into the political ring. He is well known as a platform speaker, a tactful organizer and a campaigner of no mean ability. In his speech of acceptance he said he was again in the fight for western Canada.

Hon. Chas. Stewart made a brief address on federal matters, dealing chiefly with tariff matters.

The singing of the national anthem closed one of the largest conventions ever held in Camrose riding.

United Church Notes

The services next Sunday will be at Albert, Alma Mater and Irma at the usual hours. The pastor expects to be in charge.

The Rev. J. R. Geeson has been laid up for a week with throat trouble, but has sufficiently recovered to resume his work. He plans to have sacramental services next Sunday at Albert and in Irma, and it is hoped that there will be large representative congregations to share in this solemn service of Spiritual fellowship. All Christian friends are cordially invited to share in this service.

W.C.T.U. LITERATURE ON SCHOOL WORK AVAILABLE

A very enjoyable meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Locke on Saturday evening last, when a number of school teachers in and around Irma were invited in.

The evening was spent in music, readings and contests and just before lunch was served Mrs. N. O. Parke introduced the work of the W.C.T.U. for the schools, showing the need and value of such training for the children. She illustrated this by showing a large number of posters done by the children last year. All the teachers present decided to take up this work and the literature for the course was handed out to each one.

If those who could not be present will call on Mrs. Parke, she will be pleased to give them the literature or will mail it to them if that is more convenient.

Wenstob Wins In Farewell Edmonton Bout

Power laden punches and a two-fisted attack that gained for him six of the ten rounds, gave Eddie Wenstob of Viking, a brilliant triumph over the highly-touted Larry Udell of Minneapolis, last night in the main event of Promoter Mike "Kap" Kaplansky's professional boxing show at the Empire theatre. His farewell fight, before leaving for Montreal and then to England, the black-thatched "Viking Flash" had the courageous Udell badly beaten in the tenth round but Wenstob's desperate efforts for a knockout failed as the bell saved the groggy, badly beaten Minneapolis fighter.

Opening up strongly and quite willing to fight it out in the centre of the ring, blow for blow, Eddie Wenstob put on what many thought was his finest bout here since his campaign began. It was his farewell bout, and the Viking Flash really went out to give his fans a real crowd pleaser.

Wenstob took the first round after a series of exchanges with Udell, the former getting the better of these and taking the round. In the second round, after a poor opener, Udell came back well and dealing out a large proportion of punishment to Wenstob took the round. The third round was called even and both standing the fast pace well. The fourth was also split, although Udell missed many blows as he swung with wild haymakers at the fast stepping Wenstob.

Wenstob took the fifth, sixth and seventh chapters as he unleashed a heavy punching attack that produced crowd pleasing rounds of new boxing thrills to the local fraternity. Again Udell tried desperately to come back, now near hopelessly out of the running and rallying strongly in the 8th he divided honors in that round as Wenstob missed many blows that really should have meant points for him.

The final two rounds, however, were both Wenstob's. He battered the Minneapolis fighter into submission with right and left hand blows that literally laid his opponent. In the ninth Wenstob gave every ounce of power behind his punches and with the bell Udell staggered groggily to his corner. Again in the tenth, Wenstob kept up the pressure, with his power laden blows, accurately aimed had Udell in bad shape. Wenstob was like a beast of prey and only the bell saved Udell from being Wenstob's first knockout victim here.

At the close of the bout Wenstob was presented by Mr. Phillips of Strome as appreciation by Strome's sports fraternity for his great ring battles, a pair of fighting trunks, a handsome club bag and a dressing gown upon which his name appeared. Wenstob was also given hearty cheers from the lay crowd upon his departure.

Wenstob, Battling Sig Tracey and manager Kap Kaplansky left Saturday for Montreal and from where they will sail for England and other European countries in which they will stage a tour.

SPORT PEEPS

At the first game of the Black Hawks on home ice, tribute was paid to a great sportsman, the late "Chuck" Gardiner, who for seven seasons defended the Chicago goal. A great floral wreath, with the centre fashioned to represent a goalie's stick, was placed in goal. Out in front was the Vezina Trophy, won by Gardiner for the second season last year. Then with the lights dimmed, the crowd of 15,000 stood in silence while a spotlight was turned on the cage. A bugler sounded "Taps", completing a most impressive ceremony of remembrance. Gardiner was a good cleaning chap that deserved these honors.

Possibly this heart-breaking ceremony had its effect upon his old teammates, for in the game which followed, Clem Loughlin's proteges were unable to get the chalk for even one little score. Toronto trimmed them 5-0.

In University rugby this year an unusual feature took place at Queen's. Five of the "First" team were members of a Class Fraternity, and the democratic student body and Alumni said that no member of such a "clique" was eligible for the team. These five players had to drop out. Yet Queen's won the championship. With the departure of these so-called aristocrats, a spirit of determination developed in the revamped squad, that brought victory. That was College spirit.

Eddie Wenstob is on his way to Europe, a trip that many a boy would like to take. It is a fine example of success in sports and we hope fortune. Professional sport pays handsomely, as evidenced by two other Viking boys in Big League Hockey. But one must pay the price of a lot of hard work and self-denial to train the body and keep fit. These boys are worthy examples of good sports.

Last week's most amazing accident occurred in California. In an early morning workout on the track, a horse threw its rider and dashed around the track in the opposite direction. Another horse, with rider, met the runaway and crashed head on, a fog making visibility poor. They hauled the mess away, for both horses were killed and the jockey had a fractured skull.

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

MADE IN CANADA

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share of plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to go see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot of a Montgomery Ward wild west outfit.

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now, is returning to tell Dustin and Spite Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Hour-glass cattle and plots against it.

Spite Goddard and Sam Dustin, fearing the old prospector may tell others the things he has seen as to the branding of Carr's cattle, plot to get him to show them the location of the mine and then to kill him.

Gerald Keene, dressed in ridiculous cowboy costume, arrives at the Hour-glass ranch and is hired as a cowboy by Joe Carr. The impersonation of a tenderfoot is successful, and he is accepted as such by the other occupants of the bunkhouse.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"You see I ain't done much real cow-hand work. I was livin' in town and I got me a little bit o' money. I learnt what I could from a few books I read an' then I come West to learn the business. That's how come I was hired."

"Huh! Year . . . I . . . ! We see . . . ! That's fine. . . . " Baines took the crackling newness of boots and clothing, the clumsy equipment on the pony and he grinned into his hand. "I see you've got three notches on your gun," he said, with a grin at the others. "Where'd you buy it?"

"I bought it before I started West. All the books said that a notch is cut on the handle for every man who's been killed."

"Great God all mighty," said Baines, all at once. "You mean you've killed three men? In Chicago with a machine gun I reckon. . . ."

"Nope. I done it with an automobile. . . . I got all three of 'em at once. It was just like killin' quail. They was all settin' when I hit 'em. You see I was coastin' downhill an' the machine swung off the roadside. They was playin' damned careless just like you was when I rode up and they was talkin' a lot o' damn fool talk same as you. . . . So . . . I killed 'em. . . ."

At that even Silent Lee laughed. "Oh, let him alone," he said, grinning. "You'll get nothing offen him."

In this manner did Duro Stone come to the Hour-glass ranch.

The bunk-house did not know that Edith Carr, the pretty, red-headed daughter of old Joe Carr, saw the new arrival. She was mixing a mint julep for old Joe who was sitting in his front office with his game leg straight out before him on a chair when Stone arrived. She promptly took her "makings" into the back-office but was quite close enough to hear what took place.

"I'm hearin' tell you want new men," quoth Stone. "I'm lookin' for a job."

"S'at so?" demanded Carr. "What kind of a job?"

"Mostly eatin' with a little unofficial drinkin' throwed in. I don't mind some ridin' on a nice famby horse. I kin split wood and haul water an' . . ."

"By God," said Carr, "that's more'n most can do who hire out as cow hands. Know anything about cattle or is that ouft all bought from a catalogue?"

"Not all of it," said Stone, grinning. "I won the spurs in a poker game."

"You're hired. Get back over to the bunk-house and kill the first coyote who tries to play practical jokes on you."

Edith came back into the room giggling. She had never seen any one just like that before.

"Who in the world was that, Daddy?" she asked. "He looks like a walking advertisement for Christmas presents."

"Looks like he'll do for you to play with, Honey, when he ain't workin'. We're sure out of luck when we have to hire men like that. He ought to do to ride fence and leave the other men free for regular work. When Frank Crewe gets back send him in to me, will you, please?"

Edith gave him his julep, nodded her bright head and, picking up her quilt, passed out to the tie-rack where her pony stood. She was young; distinctly more than merely pretty and she dominated every soul on the Hour-glass. As her father watched her go, his face darkened.

His bad leg hurt him but other things hurt worse and a little later, when Frank Crewe came in for a chat, he found his boss and old friend in the depths. Crewe did not help matters, for his dark face was darker with wrath where ordinarily it radiated good humor.

"Nothin' good, Joe," he said cryptically. "We've been combin' the back-ranges for a week an' we got maybe four hundred. Not prime stock at that."

"Four hundred. . . . " Joe Carr's tone registered utter consternation. "The beginnin' of the round-up and only four hundred calves from more'n three thousand cows. . . ."

"Calves, hell. . . . " Crewe exploded. "I'm tellin' you, Joe, this four hundred is all! Git that? It's cows an' calves an' steers an' bulls, too. Breedin' stock an' increase. . . ."

Carr tried to rise but sat back with a groan of pain.

"Hell," he finally ejaculated. "That just ain't possible!"

"I know it ain't. And I know, too, where the stuff's gone but I'll be damned if I could either prove it to be our stuff or show how 't was stolen. I know those damned robbers over on the Broken Spur are at the bottom of it. I know they sent two thousand head out to California two months ago to fatten for the market and I know they got seventeen dollars where we got eight-fifty. They're glad to ship their cows out o' the State. But we were asleep. We ought to have a man at the loadin' pens."

Mothers adopt Vicks Colds-Control Plan

Helps the Whole Family to Enjoy Greater Freedom from Colds

Doubly welcome to mothers is news that the makers of Vicks VapoRub have perfected a Plan for Better Control of Colds—to help reduce the number, duration and dangers of colds. Vicks Plan is introduced along with Vicks Va-tro-nol, the remarkable new aid in preventing colds—companion product to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds. The Plan includes simple, easy-to-follow rules of health—to build resistance to colds.

BRIEFLY, HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS:

• TO HELP PREVENT COLDS

At that first stuffy feeling, that first nasal irritation or sneeze, quick!—Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Especially designed for nose and upper throat—where most colds start—Va-tro-nol stimulates the functions which Nature has provided—in the nose—to prevent colds and to throw off colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to avoid many colds entirely.

• TO HELP SHORTEN A COLD

If a cold has already developed, apply Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster, while its medicated vapors—released by body heat—are inhaled direct to inflamed air-passages. This double direct attack loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often, by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

"I know . . . I know," said old Carr placatingly. "I didn't have a man to send, as you know, and I didn't have the money to hire an extra man. I'd give a lot to pin what I know Dustin is doin' on to his card. But I can't. I wish to God we could find that man Gerald Keene. We've talked him over so damned often that I've got to sort of feel he might do us some kind o' good. I don't know but what he might. . . ."

"Huh. If you could get in touch with him, he might," conceded Crewe. "Something's got to turn up. . . ."

"Yeah. Like a hoe-handle when you step on the blade an' knock your fool brains out," said Carr viciously.

"I got to borrow money to meet our next pay-roll, Frank. I reckon I'm busted flat. I'm sixty-five past and I've got Edith to take care of. . . . She didn't come till I was past forty, Frank. I got to find some way to take care of her. . . ."

"You needn't worry about her," said Crewe, who openly adored her. "Plenty of men'd be glad to relieve you of that care. Sam Dustin, for instance. . . ."

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Faster Way Found to Relieve Headaches

NOW PAIN OFTEN RELIEVED IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin.

Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain often in a few minutes!

In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show this: Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet.

Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 at any druggist's.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH

TELL YOU HOW TO COOK FISH

—with less work and no odor

Boiled or steamed fish comes out firm and solid, swimming in its own juice, when you cover it with CANAPAR Cookery Parchment. No fishy odor. No gummy steamer or saucepan to clean up afterwards.

And how delicious vegetables are when cooked the CANAPAR way! You can boil three in one saucepan without the flavors mixing—over a single burner. Save fuel. Eliminate odor in the house. Preserve the rich mineral salts. Cut down work.

CANAPAR can be used over and over again. It won't absorb odors. Try it as a dish cloth—especially for glasses.
